Robinson Differs From Other Judges.

FOR SECRETARIES

C. M. Cooke is Appointed Forcman-Bailiff Nev Left Out in the Cold.

Judge Robinson delivered his first charge to a grand jury yesterday since his appointment to the bench. His instructions to the inquisitorial body differed materially from the charges delivered upon former occasions by Judges Humphreys and Gear. One of the points of difference is an admonition to the jury that it is not compelled to consider trivial cases where the punishment is less than a year. Another is that it is not absolutely necessary for every jury to make a tour of investigation through all public institutions upon each and every occasion, and the jury is farther instructed that none of its members can receive compensation for services as clerk or secretary. The third Judge holds that there is no statute in Hawaii providing for such compensation, which would seem to indicate that some of the jurymen favored by the first two Judges drew various amounts from the Territory illegally. All of the past juries have had secretaries and oftentimes clerks, in addition who drew from one hundred to three hundred dollars apiece for their services, in addition to their per diem as jurymen. C. M. Cooke was appointed by the court as foreman of the grand jury and William Henry Tell was sworn as bailiff. Emil Ney, Judge Gear's old standby, was about the corridor waiting to be called upon for the service but he was simply ignored. Tell was formerly bailiff to the Court of Fire Claims and was recommended by its members to Judge Robinson.

The grand jury is composed of sixteen men, five of the special jurymen having been excused. These were: J. B. Castie, C. H. Atherton, D. Kanewanui, Godfrey Brown and C. F. Herrick. The grand jury is holding its sessions in the old throne soom in the Capitol building, and immediately after its organization yesterday morning, an adjournment was taken for the day, because of the Lishman funeral.

After a brief review of the origin of the grand jury, a definition of infamous crimes, and a discussion of the grand jury's duties the court said:

"While admonishing you to be thorough and efficient in the discharge of your duties. I charge you that the present depleted condition of the Territorial treasury, which is a fact doubtless known to each and all of you. should urge you to be prompt and expeditious in your investigations and deliberations. The expense incident to each day's session of a grand jury is considerable and each day unnecessarily employed in inquiring into a trifling offense alleged to have been committed or into the management of a public institution against the officers or employes of which there has been directed no charge or suspicion of mismanagement imposes a useless expense

"While your privilege and right to incommitted is co-extensive with the juand extends to all classes of public offenses, from the most insignificant and trifling to the most heinous and infamous-from simple assault to murder in the first degree-still I charge you, especially in view of the depleted condition of the Territorial treasury. that it is not strictly your duty to inquire into any crime alleged to have been committed, the punishment for which, prescribed by statute, is imprisonment, whether with or without hard labor, for a term less than one year, whether with or without fine, nor is it strictly your duty to inquire into the management of any or all public institutions situated in this Circuit, upon every occasion at which you are summoned, although it is your privilege and right to do so.

"The people of the Territory of Hawall, and the complaining witnesses as well, have a remedy, adequate, complete and speedy, at a vastly less expense to the Territory, in the summary jurisdiction exercised by the District Courts under our laws in the hearing and determination of criminal offenses not included in the definitions of capital and otherwise infamous crimes, and in case of mismanagement of a public institution, persons having knowledge of such mismanagement would not hesitate, in these days of good, to call it to your attention without delay."

Then, advising the grand jury of the necessity for secrecy, the court con- law. cludes as follows:

"No indictment can be found by you unless at least twelve of your number concur in the finding. When an indictment is found by you, you will endorse thereon, "A true bill," and have such endorsement signed by your fore-JOSEPH HARTMANN & CO. man.
